

July 12, 1957

Dear George:

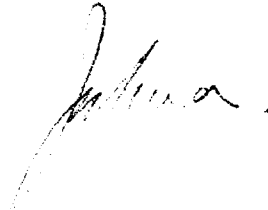

Thank you for your wonderful postcard. It says 'Airmail' but I don't see how they got it on the plane, unless they fastened it under the wings.

The abbreviated plan for the symposium is certainly all right with me; in many ways it makes life easier. The particular items 1,2,3,6 would indeed be my own first choices, and it should work out quite well. So by all means go ahead with your invitations.

We have made some slight changes in our itinerary, which is enclosed, as revised.

We had a wonderful time with you, and look forward to seeing you again next in April.

Yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, likely of John F. Kennedy, written in dark ink. The signature is fluid and somewhat stylized, with a prominent 'J' and 'K'.